Linux Training Lab1

1. Navigate to /home/Documents

2. create a temp directory inside the Documents

3. verify you are in the correct directory create four files

4. compressed files by gzip and uncompressed it. Repeat for bz2

5. compressed files by tar command. (gz and bz2 format)

6. create a directory named compressedfile in current directory

7. move tar.gz and tar.bz2 file to the compressedfile directory

8. change user to lnxuser and group

9. change permissions of compressedfile directory recursively user read write execute group read write execute other read only

10. Open NameSurname1 file by vi

11 insert your name and surname end of the file

12 change all linux string to the unix

13 try vi commands

14 save changes

15 create a new directory named linkeddir

16 linked the new directory for the compressedfile

17 add a new file to the compressedfile and observe the linkeddir

18 add a new file to the linkeddir and observe the compressedfile